PROGRAM CHAIR MESSAGE

Welcome to “the happiest place on earth” and the 52nd annual meetings of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. This year’s program is jam-packed with nearly 500 events and promises to be exciting, fun, and professionally rewarding. The theme of the 2015 meeting, “Broadening the Horizons of the Criminal Justice Sciences: Looking Outward Rather than Inward,” is reflected in numerous paper presentations, panels, and round tables across a wide variety of areas. There are more than 60 policing panels and roundtables, over 45 corrections sessions, over 30 criminal justice education sessions, and numerous sessions on courts & sentencing, juvenile justice, and comparative/international criminal justice this year. We have made a concerted effort to schedule these topic area presentations equally across time slots each day from Wednesday through Saturday (Saturday 9:30-12:15), so that no matter what day you arrive, or how long your schedule (or Mickey and friends) allow you to attend, we anticipate you will find several events aligned with your research and teaching interests at this conference.

We are very lucky to have a venue that provides quick, easy, same floor access to all meeting rooms for your convenience. So, if you find yourself without access to a program to search for the next presentation to attend, check the digital displays located throughout the meeting area or simply walk back to the registration desk and ask to peruse a program. The program is enhanced this year with several keynote speakers, all of whom are scheduled to speak in Grand Sierra B. On Wednesday, March 4, at 2:00 p.m., Julia Ann Pierson, former director of the United States Secret Service, will share with us stories of her career in federal law enforcement. On Thursday, March 5, at 2:00 p.m., Lieutenant General (Ret.) Russel Honore, who is best known for his service as commander of the Joint Task Force Katrina, will speak to us. Finally, on Friday, March 6, at 2:00 p.m., Piper Kerman, author of Orange is the New Black: My Year in a Woman’s Prison, will close the keynote presentations for the conference. I’m confident that each of the presentations will be informative and exciting; please make every effort to attend if your schedule allows.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, there will be a complimentary coffee bar located in the Exhibit Hall in Caribbean 1, 2, and 3 from 9:00-10:30 am. The Exhibit Hall will also have a meeting/seating area available for conference participants (9-5 on Wed. & Thurs., 9-2 on Fri.). Plan to stop by the President’s Reception which will be held on Wednesday from 6:00-8:00 pm in Grand Sierra B. The General Meeting are open to all attendees on Friday morning from 9:30-10:45 am (Grand Sierra B), followed by the Awards Ceremony & Luncheon, and Presidential Address from 11:30 a.m.- 1:15 p.m. (Grand Sierra D). The awards ceremony and luncheon are open to all registered attendees. Make sure you arrive early to get a good seat and a full plate and join us in recognizing your colleagues for their contributions to the field!

On Friday evening, we have two special events. First, the annual Research & Pictorial Showcase will be on display from 7:00 – 8:30 p.m. in the Grand Sierra Ballroom. This year there are over 150 visual displays of research at this featured event. No matter what your research or teaching interests, there are certainly displays that will interest you. Immediately following the Research & Pictorial Showcase (in Grand Sierra C), please plan on spending some time listening, laughing, and singing with us as we engage in some good karaoke fun. Whether you sing opera or can't carry a tune in a bucket, I'm certain you will have a good time listening to your ACJS friends make fools of themselves as they sing, dance, and have a great time.

In addition to compiling a list of local restaurants and attractions to enhance your stay in Orlando, the local arrangements committee has planned several special events for conference participants (all require pre-registration).

As program chair for the 2015 conference, I sincerely hope you enjoy both the conference and your time in Orlando. I want to send a special thanks to all members of the program committee who did such a great job in organizing the panels for their respective sections. Please thank them as you see them at the conference. I'd also like to thank the local arrangements committee who served ACJS this year for putting together a series of events that are both interesting and educational. Finally, I'd like to thank Cathy Barth, ACJS Association Manager, who I've worked closely with over the last year. As she always does, she did a great job in making sure the conference came together in the end. Be sure and thank her when you see her also. Enjoy the conference!

David May
2015 ACJS Program Chair

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear ACJS Community,

Welcome to the 2015 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences conference. I hope that this conference meets your expectations and that you are able to balance the magic of Disney World with the magic that will be occurring in our conference rooms!

The theme of this year's conference is Expanding the Boundaries of the Criminal Justice Sciences: Looking Outward rather than Inward. In line with this theme, program committee members were tasked with developing featured panels that included a mix of disciplinary perspectives or a balance between researchers and practitioners. For Criminal Justice to continue to thrive, we must work with scholars from other disciplines and ensure that our work has value for practitioners. Otherwise, it would be similar to Mickey Mouse performing solely for Pluto, Minnie, and the rest of the Disney crew: the magic and meaningfulness of our efforts would go unnoticed.

Please mark your calendars for several events this week. At 2:00 each day we have keynote speakers including Julia Pierson (Wednesday), Lt. Gen. Russel Honore (Thursday), and Piper Kerman (Friday). We will be hosting an awards luncheon Friday at 11:30, a poster session Friday at 7:00 PM, and karaoke Friday at 9:00 PM. Come see who will be voted ACJS Idol! During our karaoke, we will also spend some time thanking our committee chairs, outgoing board members, and others.

One event we started this year is a doctoral student summit. As part of this summit, ACJS invited one doctoral student from every criminal justice PhD program to participate in a series of open seminars, meetings with board members, and other activities. To encourage participation in this event, ACJS is providing a hotel room to summit participants for three nights. I hope that you will talk with the participants in this summit, and all students attending the conference for that matter, and encourage them to come back next year. Thanks to Heather Pfeifer, Deeanna Button, and Cherie Carter for organizing the summit.

A great deal of planning went into this conference. I want to thank all of the committee chairs for their efforts. Dave May (Mississippi State University) did a masterful job as program chair. He was my first choice for this position (but even if he wasn't my first choice, I would have told him he was – he's funny that way). Cathy Barth continued to run the organization just as she has done in years past and Mary Stohr continued to bring new ideas and new opportunities to our organization. Vice Presidents Brandon Applegate and Lorenzo Boyd provided much needed guidance and entertainment when needed. And immediate past president Jim Frank showed me that there was light at the end of the tunnel, though he seemed to enjoy seeing me stumble through the tunnel. I also want to acknowledge the executive board. The group was dedicated, thoughtful, and kind. These qualities made the hundreds of emails and countless hours spent in meetings enjoyable.

Finally, I want to thank each of you for coming to Orlando. I hope that you have a great conference!

Regards,
Brian K. Payne, PhD
President, ACJS

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences 52nd Meeting (Located Next to A Mickey Mouse Operation!)

Dear Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Annual Meeting Attendees,

If you are new to the Academy then a big hearty welcome to you! If you are a regular attendee of ACJS meetings then welcome to the 52nd! The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences was originally created by a few police scholars interested in providing an open and welcoming environment for both academics and practitioners where fresh ideas and research might be exchanged and applied for the betterment of our communities, practice and scholarship. Since that time the Academy has grown to be one of the premier Criminal Justice/Criminology organizations in the country representing a diverse group of scholars, practitioners and student members from all regions of the country and including many international members too. This year's meeting promises to be the largest ever, with about 500 events planned for this three and a half day conference.

ACJS President Brian Payne, his Program Chair (David May), the 2014 Program Committee, the ACJS Executive Board, countless other volunteers who chair panels and run committees, sections and organize events at the meeting, along with Association Manager Cathy Barth and myself, have created a conference with you in mind. We hope that you will enjoy what is available and feel free to give us feedback on what you experience either directly or in the survey you will have the opportunity to complete after the conference is complete.

As you may be aware, certification has become a vehicle for both the academic and practitioner worlds to encourage adherence with higher standards of practice. ACJS established its certification standards for academic programs in 2005 and recently revised them this last year, to make them more applicable to a greater number of Criminal Justice/Criminology academic programs. If you are in a department or program which is interested in being certified by the Academy, consider attending the Open Sessions where the changes in the certification standards will be discussed: Session Events 42 Wednesday 3/4 9:30-10:45 Grand Sierra B, and Event 422 3/6 3:30-4:45 Boca VII. There will also be Closed Sessions for trained reviewers to determine how the changes would affect their reviews: Events 157 3/4 3:30-4:45 Grand Sierra A and Event 229 9:30-10:45 Grand Sierra B. Certification standards and related information are also available for your review on the ACJS website at www.acjs.org or you might want to contact the chair of the Academic Review Committee, Dr. Barbara Peat at bpeat@iun.edu for more information about certification.

Besides the "work" of the conference – the panels, presentations, workshops, and roundtables – please also be sure to stop in at the section and regional meetings and their respective events. Also check out the book vendors and the numerous receptions sponsored by ACJS and those sponsored by various schools. If you are new to ACJS, the very best way to meet and get to know people is to participate in sections with others who have similar research and pedagogical interests, or practitioner experience, as you! Working for the regional organizations will also lead to friendships which can be renewed not just at ACJS, but at a regional meeting. Students should not hesitate to join the sections and regions as well, as these connections are vital to your professional or scholarly growth. ACJS friends are often made by volunteering to do work for the regions and the sections and by serving on the various committees who oil the machine of ACJS.

As indicated in the ACJS program and on the App for this meeting, we have some special events planned for you at this conference: the New Attendees Breakfast which is free for new ACJS members ("new" within the last two years) is scheduled for Wednesday, March 4 at 7:30 a.m. until 8:30 a.m. in Grand Sierra C (new faculty, new graduate students and new practitioner members are particularly welcome at this event which will be attended by the ACJS President and members of the Executive Board); the President's Reception, scheduled for Wednesday, March 4, from 6:00 p.m.-8:00 p.m. in the Grand Sierra B is free and open to all (come meet Presidents from years past, and future, roaming the reception hall); and speakers who will address the theme of "Broadening the Horizon of the Criminal Justice Sciences: Looking Outward Rather Than Inward." And new this year, on Friday night from 9:00 pm to midnight the ACJS President Karaoke Night will be held in Grand Sierra C and you are all invited! It is rumored that President Payne will do a solo. Of course, this year our meeting in Orlando is situated near a relatively well-known amusement park you may have heard of and we hope you will have the time to take advantage of that proximity!

Finally, managing the Academy is a team effort, one done mostly by volunteers who essentially “own” the academy and decide its future. If you have not done so already please feel free to become one of those volunteers who will help us achieve the original mission envisioned by those first police scholars, who had been practitioners, and who were interested in the betterment of, and ultimately more just, communities.

Let me close by again welcoming you to the 52nd Annual Meeting of ACJS! If I can be of assistance to you in any way regarding the conference or ACJS, please do not hesitate to contact me at mary.stohr@wsu.edu,

Best to all,

Mary

Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences

Certification for Academic Programs

The goal of the ACJS Certification Standards and implementing a Certification Review process is to measurably improve the quality of criminal justice education. For several years, ACJS had Minimum Standards for Criminal Justice Education and these standards were used in a peer review process through ACJS Academic Review. The new standards and process represent an evolution from “peer review” to “certification”. The ACJS Certification is designed to evaluate evidence-based compliance with the Certification Standards.

What do we mean by compliance with standards? The ACJS Executive Board will Certify those programs that undergo ACJS Certification Review and that have demonstrated, through substantive, credible evidence, the program meets or exceeds all parts of every standard. The emphasis is on evidence, not intention. Programs are required to provide evidence of program quality & effectiveness based on program outcome assessment.

The Certification Standards are broken into nine sections, each of which has specific Standards and Recommended Indicators. The sections are:

- A: Program Mission & History
- B: Program Structure & Curriculum
- C: Faculty
- D: Admission & Articulation
- E: Resources
- F: Student Services
- G: Integrity
- H: Program Quality & Effectiveness
- I: Branch Campuses, Additional Locations, and Other Instructional Sites

The Certification Standards for Academic Programs and Process for Undergoing Review are available for Associate, Baccalaureate, and Master's degree programs. You can access these Standards on the ACJS website, on the Certification page. The Application for Program Certification and other documents can also be downloaded from the Certification page.

NOTE: All papers presented at the 2016 ACJS Annual Meeting are to be original works never before published, printed, or accepted for presentation elsewhere.

Program Guidelines

All program participants are required to pre-register for the conference and to provide their own transportation and meeting expenses. The form for downloading and submitting pre-registration is available at www.acjs.org on the Annual Meeting page of the website.

Abstracts should be submitted only once via the ACJS website. DO NOT SEND ABSTRACTS DIRECTLY TO THE TOPIC AREA CHAIRS. If you have questions about your submission, please send them to the Program Co-Chairs Jennifer L. Hartman and Shelley Listwan at ACJS2016@gmail.com

LCD projectors will be available in the meeting rooms. No laptops/computers or overhead projectors will be provided. Additional audio/video equipment is the responsibility of the presenter. Individuals wanting additional equipment must either bring their own equipment to the conference or make arrangements through the hotel for equipment rental.

ACJS Program Participation Options

Research Showcase

The Research Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audience. The primary author of a Research Showcase presentation must be in attendance and committed to standing near his or her presentation throughout the allotted session.

Paper Presentations

Panels consist of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience. Participants who select this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference.

Student Authored Paper Panels

Undergraduate and graduate student authors may submit their papers to a regular topical area of their choice where they will present with other faculty and practitioners. However, students have the option to submit their papers for presentation on an all-student panel. These panels are on a variety of topical areas, and are designed to facilitate initial presentations in a supportive and welcoming environment. Participants who select this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference. Students who select this option should select "student panel" as their topic area.

Complete Panels

A complete panel consists of coordinating the arrangement of four papers related to a common theme. The person facilitating the complete panel must include a panel chair, panel title, and four papers with all supporting information for the papers at the time of submission to the website. Participants involved in this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference.

Roundtables

Roundtables are open discussions of a topic, organized by a moderator and involving no more than four individual discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Open Seminars

An open seminar involves one or more presenters speaking on more practical educational issues such as seeking extramural research funding, the job search process, developing course syllabi, or entering university administration. Open seminars can also be hands-on experiences that involve the audience as participants (e.g., mock job interviews, victim-offender mediation). An Open Seminar is in a different format than a roundtable panel because there are no discussants and no scholarly papers presented. All Open Seminars are open to all conference participants with no advance registration required.

IN MEMORIAM

John S. (Jack) Dempsey

John S. (Jack) Dempsey was a mentor, practitioner, scholar, and friend to many, and passed away on Sunday August 3, 2014 in NY at the age of 68. He enjoyed a distinguished career in the New York Police Department serving as a patrol officer, detective, Sargent, Lieutenant, and Captain from 1964-1988.

Jack earned his A.A. & B.A from City University of New York, John Jay College of Criminal Justice in 1973. He went on to earn an M.P.S. from Long Island University, C.W. Post College in 1981 and an M.P.A. from Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government in 1987.

After retiring from the NYPD, Jack joined the faculty of Suffolk Community College (NY) as a Professor of Criminal Justice from (1988 – 2003) where he was awarded the esteemed “Who Made A Difference Award.” This award was earned and well deserved for the tireless work he did, positively affecting the lives of his students. He also served as Professor of Criminal Justice and Public Administration at the State University of New York, Empire College (1999 – 2014) where he spent the next phase of his life continuing to teach and mentor students.

Jack was the senior author of several texts for West and Wadsworth/Cengage publishing including; Introduction to Policing, Police, Introduction to Investigations, and Introduction to Private Security. He had a true commitment to professional policing and was not shy in talking about it. For years he did presentations at ACJS, the NEACJS, and various state level associations on panels concerning policing issues. He formed a band of other like-minded former practitioners-turned-academics and they affectionately referred to themselves as ‘The Great Un-caught.’ This friendship would last for years and transcend professional meetings.

Jack truly had a magnetic personality, a disarming smile, a ton of charisma, a rogue Bronx accent, and a huge heart. He was a devoted husband, loving father, doting grandfather, and loyal friend to all who knew him. He had an infectious laugh, a great sense of humor and has been known to be a practical joker.

It can be argued that policing is more professional and officers are more knowledgeable because of Jack’s efforts. There is no way to know all of the people who have been positively affected by Jack over the years, but we certainly know many have. He was a faithful public servant until the end, answering the call to serve and protect, and then teach and mentor until his End of Watch. Jack’s legacy will live on for generations.

Lorenzo M. Boyd, University of Massachusetts - Lowell

IN MEMORIAM

Charles L. Johnson

The members of the American criminal justice community lost a highly valued member of their professional circle in the untimely, premature passing of Charles L. Johnson. Charles was sitting as the Chair of the Police Section of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences when he succumbed to an illness that robbed his dear wife Sharon and his deeply cherished children of his love, and at the same time robbed his many students and growing network of colleagues of his ongoing devotion to the promotion of professionalism, learning, active mentorship and social justice in his academic career.

Charles came to service in academe after a period of distinguished service in law enforcement. Upon serving his nation in the Security Forces of the U.S. Air Force – service involving high level assignments in the areas of protection of U.S. nuclear weapons, B-52 bombers and Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles – he joined the California Highway Patrol and graduated from its academy in 1977. While with the CHP he established his well-deserved reputation for deep devotion to police work done with clear passion and complete integrity, and retired on disability after serving in the East Los Angeles and Oakland Bay areas. Charles combined his rich experience with rigorous academic study, first in earning B.S. (1987) and M.A. (1992) degrees from California State University, Sacramento, and then earning a Ph.D. from Washington State University (2008).

While pursuing his doctorate at WSU the faculty very soon realized the gifts Charles brought to his research and coursework, and witnessed his capacity to inspire and motivate students to excel in their own studies and set high standards and noble aspirations for their careers once completing their undergraduate degrees. At WSU the Division of Governmental Studies and Services likewise came to value his experience, devotion to learning, and capacity for sustained excellence in applied social science research and involved him in grant and contract research projects as often as it could secure his services. These projects involved him in leadership roles in work with the Office of Justice Programs of the U.S. Justice Department, the Office of the Washington State Attorney General, the Washington State Patrol, the Spokane County Juvenile Court, and the Center for Children and Youth Justice in Seattle. Upon completing his Ph.D. dissertation at WSU Charles stayed on as a post-doc project lead on a grant funded under the Models for Change (juvenile justice reform) program funded by the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, working out of the Criminal Justice and Criminology Department at WSU Spokane. Once Charles became active in the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences his colleagues from across the country became aware of these same special gifts, and the association entrusted its precious Police Section to his able care and nurturing. What Charles had accomplished in his doctoral and post-doc work at WSU he carried on at the University of Maine at Presque Isle and Western New England University upon assuming faculty positions there.

The many contributions made, the many lives touched in special ways, and the many fond memories of a kind and generous and life-loving man will live on for certain; sadness comes in knowing that there are few who are likely to be his equal in the classroom, on the research team, and in the realm of academe occupied by Criminal Justice. At WSU his students, colleagues and faculty alike celebrate his life and will long cherish his memory.

Nicholas P. Lovrich, Washington State University

THE GRAND CARIBE CONVENTION CENTER

ACJS 2015 EMPLOYMENT EXCHANGE

The ACJS Employment Exchange (EE), located in the Hibiscus meeting room of the Convention Center, will open on Wednesday, March 4, 2015, at 12:00 pm and close at 5:00 pm. On Thursday, March 5, and Friday, March 6, the EE will open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. The EE will not be open on Saturday.

In keeping with the desire to GO GREEN, no longer is it necessary to send hard copies of position announcements or candidate vita. Building on the success of the EE at ACJS 2013, due in no small part to the assistance provided by ACJS Manager Cathy Barth, the EE will provide laptops containing “Job Openings” as well as “Job Candidates” to accommodate ACJS EE attendees as well as numerous other innovations. Hiring institutions need only send 1) full announcement and 2) brief description of the position (“position-at-a-glance”; see below for details), and job candidates need to send their vitae by attachment to our email address, jlee@psu.edu.

For easy indexing in our email system, hiring institutions should use “ACJSJOBOPENING” as their email title, and job candidates should use “ACJSJOBCANDIDATE” as their email title. There is no cutoff date; the EE will maintain a rolling enrollment.

For best results, institutions or persons wishing to post to the EE are advised to email the announcement or listing a week before the Annual Meeting. Submissions will continue to be accepted by email or they can be brought to the EE on a flash drive. Attendees will be able to copy announcements and candidate listings to their respective flash drives.

The EE will operate three laptops for position searches. There will be a folder on the desktop screen, and the list of institutions will be in a document file format. Job candidates can open the files to confirm the position announcements. Internet access will NOT be available on these laptops. Job candidates may browse the announcements and save files to their own flash drive.

The EE will operate two computers for candidate searches. There will be a folder on the desktop screen containing individual candidate vita. The files will be indexed by name and specialties listed by the candidate(s). Hiring institution representatives can browse the profiles and save the files in their own flash memory. The Internet access will NOT be available on these laptops. Those seeking candidates for positions may browse the announcements and save files to their own flash drive.

At any given time during the EE program, at least two EE representatives will be on-site. The EE representatives will be graduate students from across the country that have volunteered their service to ACJS. EMPLOYMENT EXCHANGE Ribbons below their nametags will easily identify them.

Along with the position announcements, hiring institutions are advised to submit brief summary memo, called “position-at-a-glance,” containing 1) school name 2) position titles (e.g., policing, theory, corrections, generalist), 3) # of positions, 4) minimum requirement, and 5) contact information of the representative available during the ACJS

Annual Meeting. The EE will organize the memos and beam them on a wall screen using a projector. Job candidates will be advised to glance at it for quick reference, then go to the position announcement, and see if they would like to contact the representative(s) attending conference.

Hiring institution representatives should bring their own table banner. The banners should be in an acceptable fashion. It has been noted in the previous EE programs that some schools have had table banners with 1) poor graphic design, 2) overwhelming colors with unidentifiable school names, or 3) nothing but acronyms of the institution. Institutions are asked to be conscientious and check with their own faculty members before bringing a banner to the ACJS EE program.

Tables and chairs will be available for institutions and candidates to use for employment-related meetings, and they will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Institutions have been asked to determine in advance their interview schedule (i.e., who will be available on what days at what times). Interview sign-up sheets will be made available for posting on a self-service basis.

On Thursday, March 5, 2015 at 9:30 am, Jim Ruiz, Associate Professor of Criminal Justice-Penn State Harrisburg, will make a presentation entitled “Tips for a Successful Job Interview” in the Hibiscus room of the Convention Center.

Piper Kerman

Bestselling Author | Memoirist | Prison Reform Activist

"I loved this book. It's a story rich with humor, pathos, and redemption.... I will never forget it."

—Elizabeth Gilbert, author of Eat, Pray, Love

In her memoir Orange is the New Black: My Year in a Woman's Prison, Piper Kerman recounts the year that she spent in the Danbury Correctional Facility for a crime she had committed ten years prior as a very brief, very careless dalliance in the world of drug trafficking. Compelling, moving, and often hilarious, the stories of the women she met while in prison raise issues of friendship and family, mental illness, the odd cliques and codes of behavior, the role of religion, the uneasy relationship between prisoner and jailor, and the almost complete lack of guidance for life after prison.

The memoir was adapted into an original Netflix series of the same name by Jenji Kohan. The Peabody Award-winning show, which has been nominated for 12 Emmys, has been called "the best TV show about prison ever made" by The Washington Post and was lauded by Time's TV critic James Poniewozik for "the stunningly matter-of-fact way it uses the prison to create one of TV's most racially and sexually diverse—and as important, complex—dramas [and] contrasts the power and class dynamics inside the prison with those outside the prison."

Kerman has delivered lectures to campuses across the country, including the University of Tulsa, Roanoke College, Fairfield University, Rutgers University, New York Law School, and many others. She has spoken at the White House, and also to groups that include the American Correctional Association's Disproportionate Minority Confinement Task Force, federal probation officers, public defenders, justice reform advocates and volunteers, and formerly and currently incarcerated people. She serves on the board of the Women's Prison Association.

Awards

2014 Justice Trailblazer Award

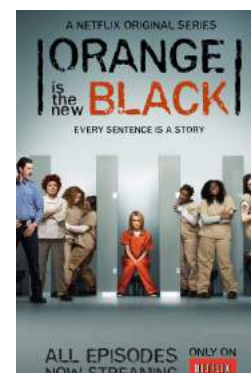

Don't let the irreverent title mislead: This is a serious and bighearted book that depicts life in a women's prison with great detail and—crucially—with empathy and respect for Piper Kerman's fellow prisoners, most of whom did not and do not have her advantages and options... Expert reporting and humane, clear-eyed storytelling.

—Dave Eggers

This book is impossible to put down because [Kerman] could be you. Or your best friend. Or your daughter.

ANNUAL MEETING PRESENTATION CATEGORIES

Panels

A Panel consists of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The Panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience.

Feature Panels are panels that are likely to be of special interest to a wide audience or may feature one or more special guests.

Author Meets Critics

Author Meets Critics is a moderated discussion between the author(s) of a recent scholarly published work and three or four critics of the work's methodology and findings.

Roundtables

A Roundtable is an open discussion of a topic, organized by a moderator and involving several individual discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. Discussants can be academics, practitioners, or students. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Feature Roundtables are roundtables of special interest to a wide audience or may feature one or more special guests.

Open Seminar

An Open Seminar involves one or more presenters on more practical educational opportunities on such topics as looking for funding, grant writing, finding a job, developing course syllabi, or becoming a new department chair. Open seminars can also be hands-on experiences that involve the audience as participants, such as mock job interviews or victim offender mediations. An Open Seminar is in a different format than a roundtable or panel, because there are no discussants and no scholarly papers presented. All Open Seminars are open to all conference participants with no advance registration required.

Research and Pictorial Showcase

The Research and Pictorial Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audience.

The master's degree in Criminal Justice is designed to provide a foundation in research and theory in substantive areas of criminal justice activity and focused scholarship on issues of importance to the field.

The faculty in our department is very productive in terms of teaching, publishing, and service to the community.

This translates into graduate courses that are cutting-edge and relevant in terms of topics, assigned materials, and discussions, as well as opportunities for both faculty-student research collaborations and student engagement in community discipline-related service.

The Department of Criminal Justice at Boise State University was named one of the top 10 M.A.-granting universities in terms of total grant dollars obtained by our faculty (Mustaine & Tewksbury, 2009).

A recent internal review determined that our program has a 100% placement rate for students applying to Ph.D. programs.

ADVANCES IN POLICE THEORY AND PRACTICE

For details contact Editor-in-chief Dr. Dilip K. Das at dilipkd@aol.com

Presenting volumes that focus on the nexus between research and practice, this series is geared toward those practitioners and academics seeking to implement the latest innovations in policing from across the world.

This series draws from an international community of experts who examine who the police are, what they do, and how they maintain order, administer laws, and serve their communities.

INTERVIEWS WITH GLOBAL LEADERS IN POLICING, COURTS, AND PRISONS

The focus of this series is to obtain a better understanding of the global challenges that criminal justice leaders face and of the successes they achieve while functioning in an increasingly interconnected and democratized world. It provides a thorough and in-depth analysis – from an insider's perspective – of how key police, corrections, and court leaders and administrators view their roles and the difficulties associated with the changing nature of their work. It aims to record the criminal justice system through interviews with global leaders who speak about the organizational structure, leadership, functions, public projects, training, culture and societal context of their organizations in different countries. The ultimate goal is to discover if external observers' perspectives match what practitioners perceive about their work.

POLICE PRACTICE AND RESEARCH (PPR)

Is affiliated with the International Police Executive Symposium (IPES) www.ipes.info. PPR is a peer-reviewed, international journal that presents current and innovative academic police research as well as operational and administrative police practices from around the world. Manuscripts are sought from practitioners, researchers and others interested in developments in policing, analysis of public order, and the state of safety as it affects the quality of life everywhere. Attention will also be focused on specific organizational information about the police in different countries and regions of the universe.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts should be submitted online to the Taylor and Francis corrections, website at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/gppr>. For assistance, please contact pprassociateeditors@gmail.com.

Manuscripts should normally be no more than 25 typed pages (Word, Times New Roman, 12 Font, DoubleSpaced) in English. Manuscripts should be accompanied by an abstract of no more than 100 words, up to six key words, and a brief biographical Sketch.
